Synopsis

"Zapruder's poems don't merely attempt beauty; they attain it."#151;The Boston Review"Matthew Zapruder has a razor eye for the remnants and revenants of modern culture."#151;The New York Times"With dynamic, logically complex sentences, Zapruder posits a world that is both extraordinary and refreshingly ordinary."#151;BOMBMatthew Zapruder's poems begin in the faint inkling, in the bloom of thought, and then unfold into wide-reaching meditations on what it means to live in the contemporary moment, among plastic, statistics, and diet soda. Written in a direct, conversational style, the poems in Sun Bear display full-force why Zapruder is one of the most popular poets in America.From "I Drink Bronze Light":Great American summer lakesright now I am flying above youthrough a rare cloudless transparent skyback to the city where it is alwayscold even in summerthe round hole I press my face againstshows only a blue expansewith white sails belowspeckled exactly the waythe Aegean would have beenthree thousand years agoif one could have seen it from abovemaybe riding in the dark clawof a god who didn't care. . . .Matthew Zapruder is a poet, translator, and editor at Wave Books. He is the author of three collections of poetry, and his book The Pajamaist won the William Carlos Williams Award. His poems, essays, and translations have appeared in many publications, including BOMB, Harvard Review, Paris Review, the New Yorker, McSweeney's, and the Believer. He lives in San Francisco, California.

Customer Reviews

Truly poetry in its purest, most brutally gentle form. Bursting with wisdom bloomed from a faint-hued past, recalling old friends and old things--and all somehow spun gracefully into the infinitesimally present day. Simple, often chatty and recalling speaking rhythms, Sun Bear is accessible, gorgeous, delightful. These poems just grow and grow.

Love this poetry and this poet. Very thoughtful and very moving, and I am sure you will love it as I do.

Dsappointing. He's gone downhill. Incoherent. At one point I was willing to say he was my favorite poet. Now it's Matthew Rohrer.
